Plenty of Vacant Buildings,
but Prices Go Up.

Council May Ask Gov. Lowden to Take Action.

Profiteers Are Asking for Long-Time Leases.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Action is being taken to put a curb on these gay buccaners, the profiteering landlords.

Recently a survey and check-up showed more than $600 vacant flats and houses, and the real estate men admitted there were more than $600 vacant residences, yet announcement is made that rents will be advanced an average of 40 per cent when new leases are made out next month.

The vacant flats may remain vacant but the price, instead of coming down, will go still further up.

Members of the Council who have been fighting the rent hogs will call a meeting early next week to ask Gov. Lowden to summon a special session of the Legislature to take action on the rent situation.

GOVERNOR IS READY.

It is said the Governor has intimated he is ready to line up with the tenants against the landlords.

The board of review is now receiving and tabulating the thousands of complaints of people who have been gouged by the rent hogs. This will be placed before the Legislature if that action is decided upon.

The city is also endeavoring to frame some drastic legislation to meet the serious situation.

The Aldermen have information that the landlords have agreed to boost rents sky high in October and insist on long-time leases, as they expect a readjustment during the winter and desire to fasten the exorbitant rentals upon their tenants before the readjustment sets in.

LAUDS GEN. OTIS TO "TIMES" MASON.

JUDGE WELLER SAYS STATUE RAISED TO HIM BECAUSE OF HIGH CHARACTER.

A tribute to Gen. Harrison Gray Otis, under whom he served both as newsboy and soldier, and a warning against the supplanting of representative government by direct government unless the individual citizens are roused to take such interest that they will be capable of properly governing themselves, were the features of an eloquent address made by Judge Dana R. Weller, Past Grand Master of the Masons of California, at a meeting of The Times Masonic Club at 118 South Broadway last night, following the club's monthly dinner at Delmonico's. About fifty were present.

"When I looked at the Otis monument," said Judge Weller, "it reminded me why monuments are erected in our country. It was not because he was editor of a great newspaper or because he had served his country in two wars, but because of the character of the man. It was because of what he had done in the community in which he lived and his steadfastness in always doing what he thought right. The man never lived who was more sincere in all he did and said."

Judge Weller recalled that Gen. Otis sometimes was called a calamity howler, and asserted that this country needs calamity howlers who will wake us up to its dangers. He said he believed this country has the best government on earth, that representative government is the only form possible, as the country is too big and its people and interests too varied for direct government. He cited two instances to show how direct government had worked harmfully. A statute to permit bucket-shop gambling could never get past the Legislature, he said, though there had been some pretty poor Legislatures. But by initiative petition the people, not understanding it, had been hoodwinked into permitting bucket shops. In the city of Los Angeles, he said, slaughter house monopolies had been established in the old Seventh and Eighth wards by initiative petition which could not have been worked past a City Council. He asserted that only about 10 per cent of efficiency is exerted either by citizens in their part in governmental affairs or by members of organizations in organization affairs. "It is all right to demand direct legislation if the citizens inform themselves on the matters they vote on," he said, "but if we sent a legislator to Sacramento who didn't know more than 75 per cent of the voters do about the legislation we'd vote on at the coming election we'd want to recall him."

CLOTHING COSTS ARE COMING DOWN.

ECONOMY AND SIMPLICITY TO BE RULE IN WOMEN'S WEAR, SAYS MYER SIEGEL.

Just returned from an eastern buying tour, during which he secured many new and attractive garments for his exclusive women's specialty store, Myer Siegel talked interestingly yesterday upon the subject of forthcoming modes.

"The new garments are conservative, elegant, built upon simple lines which are at the same time smart," said Mr. Siegel, "and they are a little less expensive, for the reason that study has been given to the problem of securing effects at less expenditure of material and of time in elaboration of details."

"This does not mean," he hastened to add, "that garments are in any degree less attractive, but the reverse. Studied simplicity, the simplicity attained by the master hand, is evidenced in the creations for fall. We are told that skirts are to be longer, but this means that Paris women have decided that they at least reach a bit below the knee. American women have never taken to the extremely short skirt and so have no criterion for longer skirts in the French sense."

Mr. Siegel gives it as his opinion that street suits will be divided into two general classes, the rather elaborately tailored or the semi-tailored and the strictly tailored suit, with jackets reaching to a length of from thirty-four to thirty-eight inches. The latter will also be good. Dresses, he declares, will be better than ever for all occasions; and the cape in its many developments will more than hold its own. Many evening gowns will have trains. Wraps of soft, downy or

LEADERS QUIT FARM-LABOR UTAH PARTY.

Declare I.W.W. in Control and that Christensen Has Surrendered.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 4.—Two leaders in Utah activities of the Farm-Labor party tonight made public a joint letter of resignation to George Croshaw, state chairman of the party, charging that industrial workers of the world were in control of the party. They were H. A. McCollum, state vice-chairman, and Charles A. Weaver, assistant secretary of the state organization.

Two former officers of the party said a number of facts tended to prove I.W.W. influence had been active in the party; accused some members of that organization of seeking to subvert the new party to their own ends, and made a general denunciation of radicalism.

The letter called attention to pronouncements by Parley P. Christensen, the party's presidential nominee, against the I.W.W., and said he had failed to live up to the statements. Both signers of the letter live here, as does Christensen.

The writers quoted Christensen as saying he would resign the executive office of the I.W.W. vote in the new party's behalf.

The letter said:

"The Farm-Labor party delegates had barely returned home before they began to form plans to control the new party, and began to pursue their own radical ends. Christensen... has sacrificed his integrity to labor unions and I.W.W."

The letter explains that the signers are not attacking all labor unions but only those inclined to radicalism. It goes on to say: "I.W.W. interests are operating under the misnomer of the 'Farm-Labor party,' and add, 'no law-abiding citizen would dare belong to it, (the Farm-Labor party).'"

WIFE ORDERED TO OMIT PHYSICAL IN THEIR LOVE.

Psychologist Imposed Cold Pact on Mrs. Owen.

The name of Margaret Hamilton, teacher of psycho-analysis, to whom Prof. Festus Owen, former professor of psychology at the University of California, turned over the care and education of his children, Wright and Mary, was persistently injected by the defense yesterday in the trial of Prof. Owen's divorce suit before Judge Crail. As the evidence developed, Attorney Shelton, representing Mrs. Daisy Andrews Owen, sought to show that the control of her children was taken from the mother.

Charged with shirking her household duties and failing to aid Prof. Owen in his system of training his children, according to the latest psychological reports, the evidence showed that Mrs. Owen went out as a house servant to better herself for her duties upon her return home.

WITH MISS HAMILTON.

Prof. Owen, his wife and children, were at that time housed with Miss Hamilton and Fannie Hunter, the latter's secretary, at the psycho-analysis institution on Figueroa street. It is asserted that out of her earnings as house servant Mrs. Owen paid Miss Hamilton for lessons in psycho-analysis. It is also asserted that Prof. Owen mortgaged his home for $2400 and entered into an agreement with Miss Hamilton under which she was to train and educate his children at a certain compensation a month.

When Mrs. Owen returned home she ate for a time at the family table. The professor said he had hoped she had realized her responsibilities, but later she was assigned a room in a dormitory, where she had lunch. This room, according to the defense, was meagerly furnished. She slept on a camp cot.

The system of discipline adopted by Prof. Owen extended even to his marital relations. He found, he said, that his health suffered; he could not compose himself for his lectures and continue his work at home. He said he had an agreement with his wife. The agreement was antecedent to the birth of their child. He said there had been a constant demand on his physical energy.

TO CONSERVE ENERGY.

The agreement was that the wife should refrain from the physical expression of affection," he testified. "I impressed on her that I had need to conserve my energy. The theory of Mrs. Hamilton was that a man should sublimate his mental life to higher sources. The basic principle of life has been to do the things constructive and to leave the things destructive to the subconscious."

One of the rules of this agreement was that the subject matter should not be discussed with others. So Prof. Owen denied that he had ever talked over sex problems with Miss Hamilton as bearing on his own home life.

Miss Hamilton was not in the courtroom. She will take the stand in her own defense, it is said, and will deny that she had ever talked over sex problems with Prof. Owen in connection with his children, which he asserts were due to his wife's system of so-called deceleration.

WOMAN ADMITS THIRTY CHECKS HAVE NO VALUE.

Corned in a store near Fourth and Broadway late yesterday afternoon, Bessie James, 27 years of age, who refused to give the police her address, was arrested by Traffic Officer Tom Connors and locked in the City Jail charged with having passed more than thirty worthless checks during the past three months. The woman was taken into custody just after she attempted to pass another check.

At Central Police Station Miss James refused to give the police any information, but stated that she cashed the checks because she needed the money. She identified all the checks held at Central Police Station as hers and stated that she would not fight the charge. According to detectives who investigated the case she has been under arrest before on the same charge.

GASOLINE ONE TRUCK WAR SEEMS IMMINENT. SPEEDSTER SENTENCED.

While Other Companies Raise Price Standard Boosts Allowance at Old Figure.

Incident with the raising by the Union Oil Company of the price of gasoline from 25 to 27 cents and the announcement that the Puente will do the same, the Standard Oil Company yesterday began supplying full tanks to commercial cars, and filling stations were giving a larger supply of the motor fuel to pleasure cars at 23 cents a gallon. The retailers on the sale of gasoline to pleasure cars were not entirely moved, however.

No one at the office of the Standard Oil Company would discuss the reason for increasing the supply of gasoline. It was stated that the stations set aside last month for essential industries will continue to serve only those. The situation, to some dealers, appears to presage a gasoline war among the big producers.

C. W. Ralph of the Union declared that his company is still in the market for gasoline. He said that he is being made out for the motor fuel. He says the company finds itself short of gas even though they have recently imported 1,500,000 gallons from other fields.

Both of the large companies which have recently raised the price of gasoline declare the increase was necessary because of market conditions, and at the increased price are making less money than they were making from the California product recently to be had here. Both companies have recently had a price cut here from Oklahoma and Texas fields. The sales manager of the Richmond said the company will continue to sell gasoline at 25 cents a gallon as long as the market conditions continued as now, but, if the price of the fuel to them is increased, they will have to raise the price to conform with the market.

Tin-Box Game Costs Farmer His Fat Roll.

The old and time-worn tin box game yesterday netted two clever bunks men $1800 in cash from Darnell Batista, an Imperial Valley rancher, and sent the rancher running to the police station demanding his money and the arrest of the swindlers.

According to Batista's report he encountered the swindlers in this city several days ago. One of them had a large fortune to give away to the poor and Batista was to do the giving. His money was placed in a tin box where it was to remain in keeping with the game. Batista was to be the judge of good faith on the part of Batista. The fortune was placed in another box and given to Batista. When Batista opened his box several hours after the strangers had departed he found a $5 bill covering a large roll of paper.

SLAY FISHERS. SCUTTLE SHIPS.

Fight for Sea Food Wealth Rages off This Coast.

Two Los Angeles Japanese Killed, Vessel Wrecked.

Boats Put into Port Riddled With Bullet Holes.

Murders on the high seas, scuttling of ships, ramming of boats and battles on sheet-iron-protected craft are marking the feud between the Austrian fishermen on the one side and Italians and Japanese on the other who are disputing possession of the rich fishing banks off the coast of Southern and Lower California.

For some time past the conflict has been marked by occasional clashes, but yesterday it was learned that it has now developed into open warfare on the high seas between Ft. Loma and Oceanside. Fishermen said yesterday that several battles have taken place, the latest occurring off Del Mar and vicinity early yesterday morning.

The Invincible, a fishing smack owned by the International Packing Company and under command of Tom Bagaloni, an Italian, was towed to San Diego with sixty-five bullet holes in her hull. Bagaloni refused to talk, and the San Diego Packing Company denied that the smack had been engaged in the fighting.

The Scandia II, a smack owned by Japanese and said to be operating out of San Pedro, was towed into San Diego yesterday. The boat was leaking badly from bullet holes beneath her water line.

FRUIT CASUALTIES.

The first casualties in the fishermen's war this season are believed to have occurred about ten days ago, when the Japanese fishing smack Yamato, operating under charter to the Long Beach Fisheries Company, was driven onto the reef at the entrance to San Diego Harbor and was so badly damaged by the impact that it sank. Officials of the San Diego canneries say they have indisputable proof of the sinking of the Yamato and that at least two of the Japanese were killed. The bodies of the two Japanese which were found floating in the sea at San Diego during the last two weeks have been identified. Other stolen articles were found in the bungalow of Detective Ray Shoy of the local department, as those of S. Tani of 149 South Howitt street and T. Ishii, also of this city. They both sailed from San Pedro in the Yamato commanded by Captain H. H. Higashikawa, who is also missing. There was one other member of the crew. The

SHOES LEAD TO JAIL.

Odd Footwear in Woman's Home Match Those Burglars Overlooked.

Identification of three shoes, discovered by officers in the bungalow of Victoria Camarillo, as mates of three others missed by burglars who looted the store of H. N. Howard, caused Justice Hinshaw to hold the woman to answer yesterday on a charge of receiving stolen property.

Other stolen articles were found in the bungalow, situated on the Whittier Road, according to the testimony of Deputy Sheriffs Courts and Bell.

The first severe sentence for driving a truck past a standing street car was given yesterday. The 21-year-old driver, by Police Judge Richardson, who ordered Pratt to jail for ninety days, and then suspended the sentence after depriving the young man of his operator's license for the period of one year.

Pratt, who lives at 1154 East Twenty-eighth street, was taken into custody Tuesday afternoon at the intersection of Seventh street and Santa Fe avenue, after passing a standing street car and speeding. He entered a plea of not guilty and was ordered up for trial yesterday afternoon.

When he was found guilty he made a plea that he would set his brother free if he would let him out of the court. He is the sole support of an aged mother. Therefore, the judge suspended the sentence but refused a plea of not guilty and was ordered up for trial yesterday afternoon.

Your Children Need The NEW EDISON

Are your children to know more of music than past generations of Americans? If so what musical education have you planned for them? Perhaps your youngsters are to develop their vocal or instrumental talent. At least you want them to enjoy a musical atmosphere in their home. In either case, can your home afford to be without the New Edison?

The New Edison develops in the child a love and appreciation of music. It contributes to the culture of your children. It enables you to detect signs of musical talent, if such talent exists.

Ask your music teacher about the value of the New Edison. The New Edison will impress upon the sensitive child-mind an appreciation of music in its purest, highest forms.

We invite you to visit our Phonograph Department and inspect the New Period styles.

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

CULTIVATE GRACIOUSNESS.

BY DOROTHY DIX.

Not long ago a man, who was the father of five sons, died, and in his will he gave many instructions as to how his boys should be brought up. Among other things he said:

"I wish to lay particular stress upon my sons being taught gracious manners. Boys are not liable to realize how far social qualities count in life. No man is likely to go far in the world unless he is popular with his fellowmen and women, and knows how to get on with them. Tactful coaching in youth makes all the difference in this respect, and although I do not want the boys to make a too conscious effort to be popular, I do want those concerned with their training to keep an eye on this part of their education, and to see to it that they acquire that quality of demeanor that will make them pleasing to those with whom they come in contact."

"I do not know how much money this father left his boys, but I am sure that the most valuable bequest he made them was this advice about acquiring the fine art of graciousness."

For graciousness is a letter of credit that the whole world honors at sight. It is the charm that makes friends, and disarms enemies, and that causes everyone to lend a helping hand to the ladder to his fortunate possessor.

What we vaguely describe as personal magnetism, or a winning personality, is nothing more nor less than graciousness, the ability to do the nice thing in the nice way, and to say the pleasing thing in the pleasing way.

Without graciousness even the virtues become as dust and ashes in our teeth, and kindness to us are an offense against us.

Haven't you had people do you a good turn in such an insulting manner that you hated them for it? Haven't you had people give you things with such an ungracious manner that you longed to throw their gifts back in their faces?

And haven't you had people refuse you things with so charming a manner that you were away from them for fear they couldn't oblige you, than you were for yourself because you didn't get what you asked for? That's the difference between graciousness and ungraciousness.

There are people who cannot give you a pocket handkerchief without making you feel that you are a pauper; who never do you a kindness without making you realize that it is a great sacrifice for them; who cannot associate with you without patronizing you; whom you never spend an hour without their wounding your feelings or hurting your self in some way. They may be, at heart, really good kind men and women, but their brutal and brutal manners make them enemies instead of friends.

They are the sort of people, who, while relieving your needs, deliver you a lecture on your lack of credit; who feel it their sacred duty to tell you of your weakness and shortcomings, and who take credit to themselves because with all your faults they love you still.

The gracious man or woman may not give you half so much, but they do it with a sympathy that warms the very cockles of your heart; they make you feel that they consider it a privilege to know you, instead of impressing on you that it is an honor for you to know them, and you never go from their presence without, in some subtle way, having your opinion of yourself somehow inflated.

The brutal people have to fight, tooth and nail, for everything they

W. H. BRANDES, of Des Moines, Iowa, who declares he gained twenty pounds in thirty days after taking Tanlac and now feels like a different man.

"Thirty days ago or a little more, I only weighed 125 pounds, but now I balance the scales at 145 pounds and Tanlac did it," declared W. H. Brandes, a well-known and highly respected citizen of Des Moines, Iowa. Mr. Brandes has been looking after the plumbing work of the Des Moines Public Schools for the past nineteen years.

"And many of the teachers, and scholars can tell you how different I look since I began taking Tanlac," he said. "I suffered from indigestion of the worst kind for the past year or more and was often so weak and dizzy I couldn't stand up, let alone walk. Nothing helped me. Finally a friend persuaded me to try Tanlac and I have never seen or heard of anything to equal it. It relieved me entirely of indigestion and put me right back on my feet. I have not only gained twenty pounds in weight, but I feel like a new man in every way. I just think Tanlac is the finest thing ever sold in a drug store."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by the Owl Drug Co.—Advertisement.

PAID FOR KNOWING.

A Grandmother Who Capitalized Her Knowledge of Babies

WHEN Captain W. C. Groom of Aurora, Ill., had to leave his store and go to war, his mother decided to go into business for herself. In spite of the fact that she was more than sixty years of age, she wanted something to occupy her leisure hours and she decided to sell the baby goods which she had accumulated over the years.

The first month was not encouraging. She sold only $13 worth of goods, but the fact that she had not come immediately made her all the more determined to succeed. At the end of the first thirty days she analyzed her little business and found that she had overlooked a very important factor—letting people know that, because she had raised one baby and helped to raise another, she knew just what babies needed.

To remedy this, she prepared and used a number of slogans, such as "The Baby Shop—Under the Direction of a Grandmother Who Knows Babies and How to Raise Them," and "A family of her own and is helping to raise two families of grandchildren—she knows what a baby needs."

As a result, the sales in the baby shop grew from $13 to more than $1000 in two years and a half. The borrowed $500 was repaid long ago and Mrs. Groom now raises a stock worth between $3000 and $4000—still within the twenty-year limit.

There are a good many days now that her sales run more than that entire month and, as she says, "it was capitalizing my knowledge of babies that did it."

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Question: How much will it cost to enforce prohibition? F. H.

Answer: The Prohibition Enforcement Bureau says that Congress has appropriated $4,750,000 to enforce prohibition during 1921. It is hoped that fines and taxes collected will offset this amount and make the organization self-sustaining.

Q: How long after slaughtering may meat be salted? R. G.

A: The safest rule to follow is to salt meat as soon as the animal is killed, and before it freezes or starts to decay. Ordinarily twenty-four to thirty-six hours after slaughtering will allow sufficient time for salting.

Q: What kind of alcohol, wood or grain, is used in antifreeze compounds in automobile radiators? G. E. L.

A: Grain, denatured grain, or wood alcohol may be used. Grain alcohol is expensive. Denatured alcohol has a higher boiling point than wood alcohol, and for this reason may be preferred.

Q: Can a married man enlist in the Marine Corps without his wife's consent? M. E.

A: The Marine Corps headquarters say that a married man cannot enlist in the Marine Corps unless his wife consents, making a written statement that she is not dependent.

upon him beyond his pay as a private.

Q: How much money is spent by each family in this country for luxuries? A. K.

A: About a dollar a day is spent for luxuries by the average family in the United States.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Time to Act.

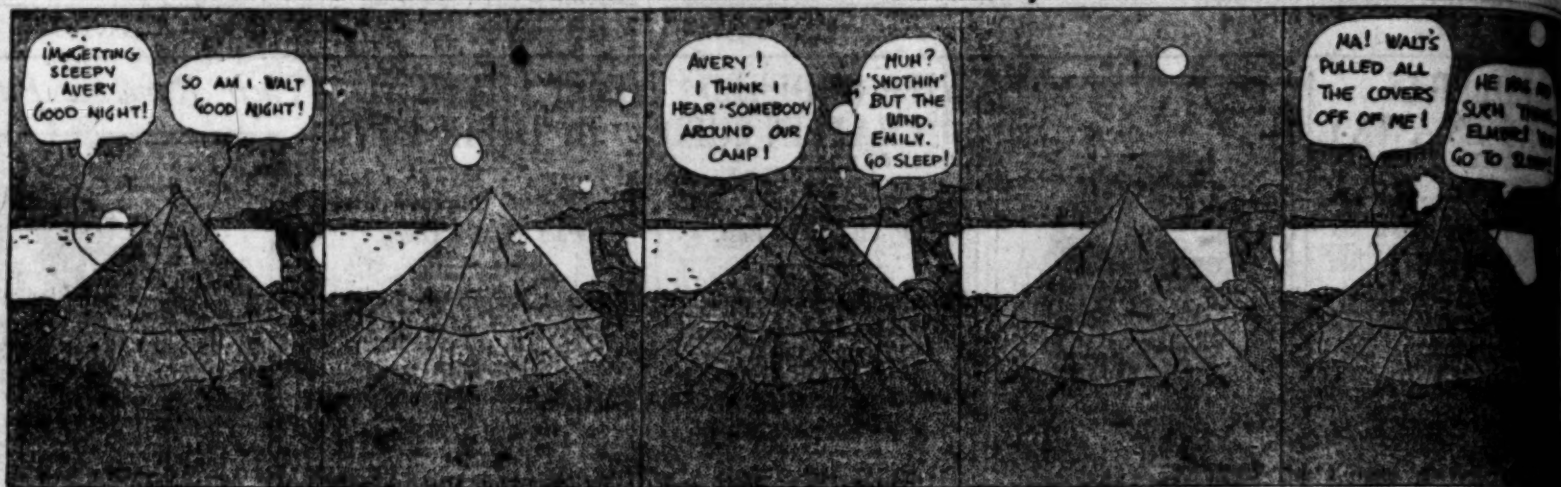

NEW YORK, July 25.—[To the Editor of the Times:] An editorial I read this morning brought to mind at once the hundreds of times while motoring in California this spring the keen disappointment and helplessness on coming upon what should have been a view of surprising loveliness, to have thrust in one's eyes a glaring advertisement of sausages or something of the sort.

I remember in particular a wonderful drive from San Diego over the mountains to Imperial Valley. As we wound up and up into the most impressive and thrilling heights of the mountains, rounding hair-raising curves and anticipating the glorious view of some of the most unique scenery in California, and which many people travel thousands of miles to enjoy, on just the particular route most prominent and impossible to escape were these insulting, outrageous, desecrations placed there by some meat or tobacco peddler.

A meaner robbery would be hard to find—and one wonders at the stupidity of California's Legislature.

San Pedro, July 27.—[To the Editor of the Times:] I have no

GASOLINE ALLEY—VOICES OF THE NIGHT.

having spent millions on these scenic roads, allowing itself to be taken advantage of in this free advertising space and having the very scenery, which is California's fame, insulted and destroyed.

Every State in the Union should make laws at once to curb this ruthless advertising sign octopus which is destroying enjoyment of a great deal of the grandest scenery of the country.

One of the demands should be the removal of the eye-sores already placed.

Will not the glorious State of California start the crusade for the preservation of beauty for the even more long suffering East to follow?

C. A. WEEK.

Why Not Number 'Em?

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—[To the Editor of the Times:] Inasmuch as the Los Angeles Railway Company justifies its inconvenient "skip stop" system on the ground of economy, much power, they tell us, being used every time a car starts, it is a little difficult to understand why they oblige persons, after dark, to stop a car and question the conductor if they wish to learn its destination.

The other night on West Sixth street I waited half an hour and stopped six cars to get the one I wanted as there was no other way of telling whether the approaching car was a Western avenue, a Heliotrope Drive or a Stephenson-avenue car.

The incivility of two conductors, who apparently resented having their cars stopped, was responsible for two of these stoppages.

It gratifies me to think that, if what they tell us is true, I must have caused the railway company an appreciable waste of "juice" though not one ten-thousandth part of what I should like to have caused them.

The simple device in use in San Francisco of putting on top of every car, in addition to the street names on the body, a large letter or figure which is illuminated at night, would add to the convenience of the traveling public.

Facts About Seals.

SAN PEDRO, July 27.—[To the Editor of the Times:] I have no need a great deal of protest on the part of some better intentioned than informed people, of late, regarding what they call the promiscuous killing of seals in local waters by foreign and other fishermen.

In behalf of fair play I should like to ask you to present to the public the fisherman's side of this, to a layman, seemingly wanton slaughter.

The seals found on our southern coast are not, as is the apparent impression of many people, of any value either as food or for their fur. But they are a very obnoxious animal to the fisherman, be he sportsman or professional. Not only do they eat large quantities of fish, which he catches, but they steal the fish from the nets and tear the nets to shreds, which is not only an annoyance to the fishermen, but a serious financial loss also. Nets cost from $100 each up to $500. So it can readily be seen that a seal may not only cause the fisherman losses running into hundreds of dollars, but cause him to lose his catch and days of time repairing his nets.

With gasoline and supplies so high and help at the prices now demanded in the fishing industry it is easy to see that the market fisherman must be given some consideration or one of the principal industries and sources of food of the Southland will be driven out.

The investment in equipment in the fishing and fish-canning industries in this section now runs into millions and a little more knowledge and a little less regulation of a discriminating character might be well.

No objection is ever made to destroying thousands of rabbits by farmers for the protection of their crops, and rabbits are of much more value both as food and otherwise than the seals of this locality, whose only value is for the entertainment of the eastern tourist.

CASE DISMISSED.

On motion of Dep. Dist. Atty. McCarty, Judge Craig yesterday dismissed the indictment against Maud E. Perry, accused of passing fictitious checks upon the Indestructible Loan Shop. It was stated in court that settlement had been made for the purchase of women's apparel, made with the supposed bad checks.

FOOD PRICES SMASHED

MILLIONS OF CANS OF MEATS AT BELOW PRE-WAR PRICES.

The War Department is offering to the American Public

Roast Beef - Corned Beef - Corned Beef Hash - Bacon

at prices even lower than pre-war quotations despite the fact that the cost of foodstuffs has increased nearly 300% in seven years.

How the Public Has Responded:

The American Public has literally jumped at this opportunity to save itself hundreds of thousands of dollars. The Office of the Director of Sales has received hundreds of telegrams and letters from the Mayors of many cities, the presidents of large industrial corporations, the heads of large wholesale distributing establishments, department stores, grocers, hotels, institutions, and other kinds of business inquiring for definite information regarding the sale of these meats.

The sale of these meats—the most palatable, the most nutritious and the most carefully packed canned meats in the world, has not only placed them upon the thousands of American tables, for breakfast, luncheon, dinner, or supper, but it has reduced the Government in its campaign to reduce the cost of living.

You will find at hotels and cafes, on dining cars, on housewives' orders to their dealers, in the dining rooms of thousands of homes, in picnic lunches, and in dinner parties, these Government canned meats. You will find them a part of the daily meat of hundreds of thousands who know CORNED BEEF, CORNED BEEF HASH, and CANNED ROAST BEEF, only as names, until this War Department Campaign was started.

The effect of this sale on food costs in general will be tremendous and the dealers who appreciate this are the ones who are selling these meats. They are performing a great public service in helping to reduce the cost of living. The American People in every community, irrespective of size, have a right to expect their dealer to co-operate with the Government in this movement.

What This Means to the Dealer:

The merchant who is alive to this opportunity, who takes full advantage of the general publicity and the co-operative advertising which the Government supplies, will be immensely benefited not only by the fair margin of profit which he makes on these sales, but by the creation of a good will of untold value and the unquestioned influence in the making of other sales throughout his store.

Go to your dealer—Go Today—Ask for Government Canned Meats—Start Now to reduce your Living Costs—Tell your neighbors.

Dealers can order these meats from any Depot Officer as per following addresses:

Why Castoria?

YEARS ago Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups were the remedies in common use for Infants and Children; Castor Oil so nauseating as to be impossible and the others all containing Opium in one form or another, disguised as to make them pleasant to the taste, yet really to stupefy the child and give the appearance of relief from pain.

It required years of research to find a purely vegetable combination that would take the place of these disagreeable, unpleasant and vicious remedies that had become almost universal. This was the inception of, and the reason for, the introduction of Fletcher's Castoria, and for over 30 years it has proven its worth, receiving the praise of Physicians everywhere and become a household word among mothers.

A remedy ESPECIALLY prepared for Infants and Children and no mother should think of giving to her baby a remedy that she would use for herself, without consulting a physician.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Have You Tried It?

Everybody has read the above headline; how many believe it? Have you a little one in the home, and has that dear little mite when its stomach was not just right felt the comforts that come with the use of Fletcher's Castoria? You have heard the cry of pain. Have you heard them cry for Fletcher's Castoria? Try it.

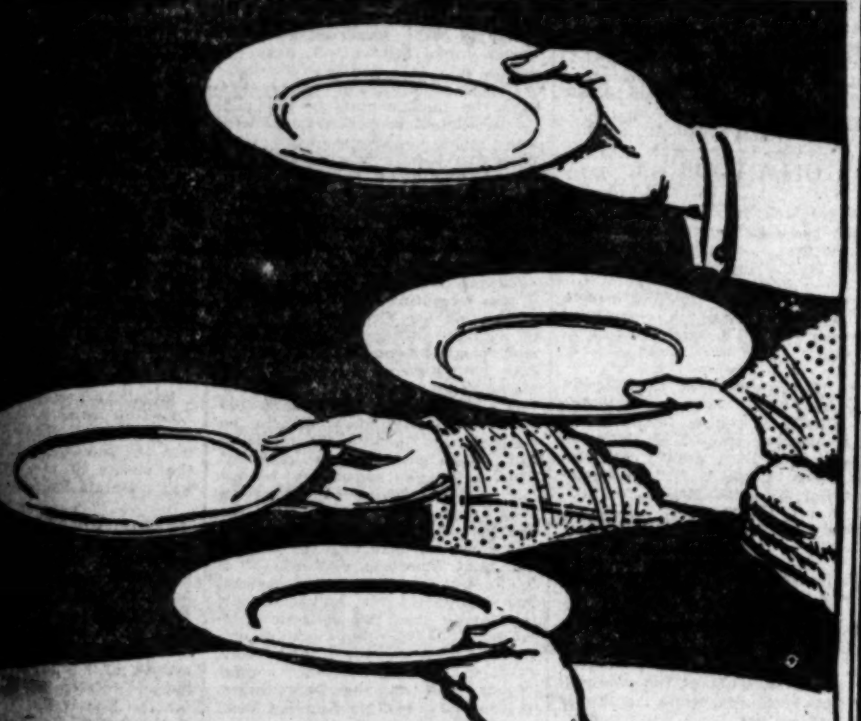

Just help baby out of its trouble tomorrow with a taste of Castoria. Watch the difference in the tone of the cry, the look in the eye, the wiggle in the tiny fingers. The transformation is complete—from pain to pleasure. Try it.

You'll find a wonderful lot of information about Baby in the booklet that is wrapped around every bottle of Fletcher's Castoria.

Principal Luncheon.
Miss Doris Collins has issued invitations for a luncheon to be given at the Los Angeles Country Club on Thursday, August 12, in honor of Miss Lenore Leonard, whose marriage to Mr. William Shaw is to be one of the events of early autumn. Miss Collins will have fifty guests. Miss Leonard and her father, Mr. J. R. Leonard, have just returned from an extended trip east, including New York, where Miss Leonard purchased part of her trousseau.

Mrs. Dockweiler's Home.
Mrs. Isidore B. Dockweiler and her four youngest children, Ruth, Robert, Frederick and Louis, returned home yesterday after two weeks at Catalina. Mr. and Mrs. Dockweiler will later in the summer open their summer home at Balboa Island, where they and their daughters, Misses Mary and Rosario, will keep open house.

At Covina.
A fancy dress dance near Covina tonight is attracting a large number of Los Angeles and Pasadena society folk. It is given by Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Leitchworth in honor of the coming of age of Pierre Edson Leitchworth, Jr., their eldest son. It is to be held at the Penjerick ranch, and sixty guests are bidden. The United States Government Says—

"You can't use the word 'CURE' when you advertise." So we don't and won't, but our advice to you is, if you have pyorrhea,

Get Dentomel

- teeth wobble?
- gums sore?
- do they bleed?
- got pyorrhea?
- got soft tartar?
- teeth smoke stained?
- discolored from other causes?
- want 'em pearl white?

Get Dentomel

"Hasn't Failed Yet"

Chas. H. MacKenzie, D.M.D., says, in the Dental Digest: "Since saliva is the natural protective fluid for all the oral (mouth) tissues, our efforts in a mouth wash should be to use a natural means stimulating these protective substances. For this purpose I find the lemon is the best organic acid. Lemon juice is one of the best natural antiseptics we have."

Until the advent of "Dentomel" there has been nothing that could set teeth that wobbled, heal gums that bled, stop the flow of pus from the pockets, remove soft tartar, make and keep the teeth clean from smoke and other stains. This DENTOMEL DOES.

Dentomel is an absolutely harmless natural antiseptic. Its base is lemon processed by a formula which is the result of long and careful experimentation.

There is no tooth paste, powder or liquid like Dentomel. It is different from anything ever made. It keeps your mouth so clean, so sweet and so wholesome and your teeth just like pearls. Its use becomes a delight rather than a duty.

Obtainable at All

Sun Drug Stores

in Los Angeles, Pasadena and Long Beach

The Makers of Dentomel are Citrus Products Incorporated, Pomona, Cal.

"HOT DOG" BEGS FOR HIS LIFE.

Health Officers Would Banish Last Night's Once Hectic Night Life.

All those in favor of the night-blooming "hot dog" and chili wagons being permitted to remain on the streets of Los Angeles are invited to attend a public hearing at the City Hall at 1:30 p.m. August 15, when the proposed banishment of the last vestige of our once hectic night life will be considered. Kind words are needed in behalf of the carts where food is dispensed to the night "ows." Councilmen Wheeler and Criswell having been the only two of the city's lawmakers who arose yesterday in the defense of the tamale wagons, which the health department says are unsanitary. Mr. Wiley retaliated by starting an action to show he had no right to possession. Mrs. Murphy bent him in that contest, but for ten days or more the house was doorless. Then Mrs. Murphy, through Attorney C. C. Trotter, filed the suit for $2148, which will come up for trial today. The odd amount is made up of several items of asserted damage. BLEDSEK GOING EAST. U. S. District Judge Bledsek will leave tomorrow for a ten-day stay in Minneapolis, where he will attend the annual session of the Grand Lodge of the Knights of Pythias as the grand representative of California. The Board of Supervisors sold at auction at the front door of the Courthouse yesterday, seven Studebaker cars that had seen their best days in the county service. Two cars were sold for $1200 each, one for $1075 and the other four for $1600, a total of $10975. The county has just purchased seven new cars, to take the place of the ones sold. Chairman Dodge acted as auctioneer.

HARBOR BOARD SPLIT WIDENS.

City Officials Are Playing Politics, Says Hughes.

Charge, Which Involves Salt Lake Pact, is Denied.

Mayor Asks Resignation, 'Tis Said; Doesn't Get It.

"While city officials are playing politics, harbor development is being delayed," yesterday said Harbor Commissioner Hughes, in declaring open warfare on members of the Council, whom he blames for delaying the ratification of the proposed contract between the city and the Salt Lake to permit the widening of the main channel. "The Harbor Commissioners worked for two years to secure the best possible bargain for the city, and bring to the contract we submitted was a good one for the taxpayers," he said. "The Council rejects that contract and submits a new one, which the railroad apparently will not accept, and in the meantime harbor development work is delayed indefinitely. I say that some people are playing politics." When asked as to the rumors that he was to resign, Mr. Hughes said: "Resign? I should say not. I have devoted years of experience to the harbor and I believe that I can be of assistance to the public in my present position. Neither Commissioners Gordon or Casey intend to resign. I am full of fight and enthusiastic over the future of the harbor." "Every day we receive applications from steamship lines that desire berthing space at the harbor. The new Pacific Mail docks will cost $100,000, and bring to the harbor the fleet of forty-seven freight steamers of that line, in addition to the palatial oriental steamships Venetian, Colombia and the new oriental service of this company, Norton, Lill & Company, which has steamship lines around the world from New York. has also applied for space. We are on the eve of a most wonderful development of the harbor as one of the ports of the world and delays are costly. "I said playing politics, and I mean it. For example, we have at the harbor an assistant engineer, J. W. Ludlow. He has been there eight years and is thoroughly familiar with all phases of the development projects we have under construction or planned. And now City Engineer Griffin asks his removal and a new man unfamiliar with our harbor put on the job. Well, we'll see about that, too!" Just to show that he was full of fight, Commissioner Hughes at yesterday's meeting of the Board of Harbor Commissioners introduced a motion requesting the Council to authorize the sale of a second $1,500,000 block of the $4,500,000 bonds voted last year. The first block has already been sold, and the proceeds are being used for engineering work at the harbor. DEFEND ACTION. Mayor Snyder and Councilman Fleming yesterday defended the action of the Council in submitting a revised contract with the Salt Lake which they say, will guarantee the taxpayers access by truck highway and drawbridge to the Terminal Island docks which are to be built to replace those belonging to the Salt Lake which will be destroyed by the widening of the main channel. "While the proposition has not come before me officially," said Mayor Snyder, "I believe that the Councilmen are trying to safeguard the interests of the public in making the proposed contract absolutely specific in the matter of guaranteeing access to Terminal Island." Councilman Fleming, chairman of the revised contract, said: "I am not an official politician and I know that the other Councilmen are not going to do it. On account of the increased railroad freight rates, it is vital that access by truck to the city-owned docks be built at Terminal Island be guaranteed in writing. We are as enthusiastic about harbor development as Mr. Hughes is, and we are not forgetting that Los Angeles Harbor is the people's harbor." CASEY IS ONE? It was stated at the City Hall yesterday, and not denied, that the Mayor had asked for the resignation of Commissioner Casey in order to fill the vacancy with a man who would be in sympathy with his plans. The resignation was not forthcoming. The noon luncheon at the City Club yesterday was devoted to a discussion of the future of Los Angeles Harbor, as the members of the club last Saturday made an inspection trip there under the guidance of the Harbor Commission. George F. Barrett, director of the club, led the discussion, stating that the harbor is of tremendous commercial importance, and urged that a campaign be started to educate the people of Los Angeles to understand that every cent spent at the harbor is in the nature of a sound investment rather than a tax. PRIZES FROM BLIMP. Many Novel Features at Picnic for Ad Writers at Beach. When members of the Advertising Club held their seventh annual picnic outing at Balboa Beach on Saturday the Goodyear dirigible will fly over the picnic grounds and scatter prizes from the air. One of these prizes will entitle the finder to a ten-minute ride in the blimp. More than twenty athletic contests have been planned for the day under the direction of Stanley B. Reed, B. Butterworth and Charles Leonard. Between 400 and 500 people are expected to attend the picnic, for which a special train will be run from the Pacific Electric Station at 5:55 o'clock in the morning. DINNER TO LINDAUER. S. A. Lindauer, secretary of the Make-Hoover-President Club, was guest of honor at a dinner given by members of the Executive Committee of that organization at the University Club last night. Mr. Lindauer told his experiences as the Republican and Democratic conventions. The guests included also John Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McFarland, George R. Martin, Ralph Arnold, W. C. Shelton, James L. Patton, J. E. Shelton, George H. Dunlop, Floyd Edgerton, J. P. Mackel, Otis H. Castle and H. W. Swafford.

Is a Great Satisfaction to Have a Good Refrigerator

The housewife who comes in daily contact with the problem of providing wholesome foods and setting a "good" table for the family knows the importance of a good refrigerator. She knows, too, the responsibility of taking care of a refrigerator, and she is quick to appreciate the refrigerator that involves least care and work.

The "Bohn Syphon" Refrigerator

is so far in advance of the ordinary conception of a refrigerator that it is really difficult to comprehend its scientific features except by actual observation.

The patented "Bohn" syphon system introduces a perpetual cold dry air circulation which keeps foods wholesome and fresh—overcomes the mingling of odors, and reduces ice consumption.

Eleven Wall Thickness, Including Flaxinum Insulation, make the "Bohn Syphon" a very economical refrigerator, for the heat is kept out.

The food compartments are lined with one-piece porcelain with rounded corners—no place for foods to lodge, and as easily cleaned as a saucer. In blue or white enamel, or oak cases.

We have refrigerators from as little as $7.00 for a small nursery ice box up to $85.00 for the "Bohn Syphon" and as high as $655.00

Our "EasyPay" Plan puts a Refrigerator in your home on a small first payment.

EASY-MONEY TALE LURES.

Eastern Farmer Testifies in the Role of Come-on at Bunko Trial.

Simon Weiss, an eastern farmer, apparently fascinated by the tale of $30,000 made in stocks on an investment of $500, had drawn up two cashier's checks, totaling $10,000, which was to be invested in a big clean-up. In Judge McCormick's court yesterday, during the trial of Fred Wayne, charged with grand larceny and attempted grand larceny, he had told the story of how he had been duped by a man who would be a leading witness for the prosecution, and Mr. Wayne, and was initiated into the mysteries of making money. He said that Wayne told him he was connected in a confidential capacity with a big stock concern and for obvious reasons could not be known in detail. Later he told them he had made a clean-up and tendered Mr. Weiss $5 as part of the proceeds. Mr. Weiss at first refused to accept the money, as he had invested nothing in the deal. Wayne then said he could make a killing and asked if he could use the names of Connelly and Weiss in the deal. This would protect him, he said. He subsequently reported that he had cleaned up $30,000 and sent Connelly to collect the money. Connelly reported the money was piled up ready for them, but a hitch had followed. Then, according to Mr. Weiss, followed a visit to Hollywood banks to give notice for the collection of Mr. Weiss's $10,000 and $14,000 Connelly said he had in an eastern bank. All the time Weiss had in his mind's eye a division of this $30,000 lying waiting for the hitch to be untangled. There was some hitch about getting his money. It became necessary for Connelly to write a letter for Weiss to the latter's daughter to send him the money. Finally the cashier's checks were drawn up, and the three men drove to Santa Barbara. Wayne was arrested in the city; Connelly is said to have confessed his part in the so-called bunko game.

Showing a highly successful year under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. T. Anderson, the Council of Community Service yesterday made public its annual report. Through 703 centers, including church guilds, women's clubs, and other units, the council is now active raising a fund to provide milk for undernourished children of Los Angeles and 1000 milk bottles are being placed throughout the city into which contributions to this fund may be deposited. Through the loan bureau the council made during the past year 223 loans to needy and deserving people and to date 131 of these loans have been repaid. At 257 sewing centers, 20,748 garments were made for outdoor relief and 8951 garments for institutions, schools and individuals. Employment has been secured for 319 women, seventy-six girls and twenty-seven ex-service men, and living accommodations have been obtained for sixty-nine business women. Through temporary loans eleven families have been able to establish homes. At Christmas, the council was able to distribute, with the aid of the Mayor's fund and the City Council's appropriation, baskets of food to 1261 families and to send sixty crates of clothing, toys and food to institutions, of a total value of $25,000. The department of home gardens established eighty centers and distributed 65,000 packages of seeds and 2,500,000 vegetable plants. Government food sales were conducted through twenty-seven centers. Two car loads of bacon and many parcels post consignments of canned goods were sold. The council is caring for fifty children from ten to thirty days each at Playa del Rey in conjunction with the camp established there by Director Campbell of the Christian and Industrial Mission.

COX'S DIVORCE
MAY BE COSTLY.

Ohio Judge Says Women Will Defeat Democrats.

Churches and Societies Oppose Candidate's Action.

Jurist is Fond of Southern California Climate.

LONG BEACH, Aug. 4.—Judge Willis Vickers of the District Court of Appeals of Ohio, staunch Republican, close friend of Senator Harding and the jurist who granted Gov. Cox his divorce, has arrived in Long Beach for a month's rest. He is registered at Hotel de Luxe.

Judge Vickers said in his opinion on the divorce in Gov. Cox's case will cost the Democratic nominee for President hundreds of thousands of dollars. It will affect his chances materially with women and the religious element now fighting divorce.

The judge sat for ten years as a judge of common pleas, which corresponds to the Superior Court in California, and for the past two years has been in the Court of Appeals. His district was the review of 90 per cent of the cases coming up on appeal. The judge came to California for a rest.

While the distinguished jurist is thoroughly loyal to the Buckeye State, he makes no effort to conceal his admiration for Long Beach. "With such a wonderful climate and splendid country, the future of Southern California is assured," declared the judge. "Long Beach is about as nearly an ideal home place as can be found in this country."

Judge Vickers says the Los Angeles papers, filled with divorce scandal, make him feel quite at home. He says that Cleveland fills columns on divorces. The judge is opposed to extensive publicity in divorce actions and is in favor of closer scrutiny in divorce matters. He finds that many divorces of the present period are the result of slack marriages. He said that men who tried to evade the draft, married without the least thought of anything except saving themselves from service.

"I do not believe in a Federal control of divorce," he said. "I believe we must get away from centralizing government in Federal hands. The real cure for divorces rests not in the courts, but in the homes and in the churches. Let the fathers and mothers scrutinize the company their sons and daughters keep."

"It is desirable and necessary that all admissions, readmissions or transfers to the Mountain Branch, (Tennessee) of members except those suffering from tuberculosis, will be stopped; also, the transfers to Mountain Branch (Indiana) will be discontinued." Veterans outside of the Home should be informed of this, which will save them useless cost of car fare.

POMONA WILL LIMIT
AUTO TRUCKS' SPEED.

POMONA, Aug. 4.—Following the lead of other Southern California cities, Mayor W. A. Vandegrift announced today that steps may shortly be taken to limit the speed of motor trucks traveling through Pomona to ten miles an hour.

Fines collected by Police Judge Harry H. Mason during July totaled $461, according to the monthly report submitted to the local Council today. The bulk of fines was exacted from traffic offenders. Arrests during the month kept up to the level of the preceding two months in spite of the gasoline shortage.

MOUNTAIN SHOWERS.

REDLANDS, Aug. 4.—The heat wave over the south, finding its center in electrical storms on the desert, and in the mountains, has brought with it particularly heavy rains in the mountains.

The rains in the mountains have been spotted. Barton Flats had a heavy rainfall yesterday while a short distance away near Conversa Flats there was no rain. There was also a heavy rain in the eastern part of Big Bear Valley yesterday. It has been cold in the mountains with the rain.

In other parts of the mountains there was an electrical display but no rain. Over in San Jacinto Mountains there was almost two inches of rainfall in one day.

PASADENANS TO

English Aviators With War

American Legion Post Gives

City Commission is Reducing Annual Budget.

PASADENA, Aug. 4.—Lieut. Tom Barrett and F. P. Baird, both of whom served during the World War in the British Royal Flying Corps, left here today for Mexico to join Gov. Cantu's Lower California army as aviators.

The two airmen told friends here before departing that they had received assurances of attractive salaries if they would join Cantu's air squadron. Lieut. Barrett said he and his companion looked upon the venture as a "great lark." He added that if warfare develops, he expects the struggle will be brief and decisively in favor of Gov. Cantu, who controls Lower California and is having a tiff with the Mexican Federal government.

In the World War Lieut. Barrett was decorated with the Distinguished Service Cross for his part in the capture of the Zeppelin. Since coming to the United States, following the armistice, he has engaged in commercial flying and in the auto trade. Some months ago while piloting an airplane he had a mishap in landing at Altadena. His plane was damaged, but he was uninjured.

Mr. Baird is not so well known here, but is also an experienced aviator. Like Mr. Barrett, Mr. Baird is an Englishman.

POST CHEERS COMMANDER.

Pasadena Post of the American Legion gave Col. Franklin D'Olier of Philadelphia, commander-in-chief of the order, rousing cheers this noon when he was the guest of the post at a luncheon and reception in the post hall. Commander-in-chief D'Olier gave a short address on "Better Americanism."

"Within the next few years," he said, "the ex-service man will be the leader in the policies of the country, in his community and in his particular profession, not simply because he is an ex-service man, but because in order to become such he had to be the highest type, mentally, morally and physically."

Capt. Paul Perigord, a hero of the French army at Verdun, now of the faculty of California Institute of Technology, and James D. Foley, also spoke. Seated at the speakers' table were Commander Herbert Hahn of Pasadena, Legion post; Dr. Charles D. Lockwood, past commander; Maj. J. B. Coulton, who is entertaining Commander D'Olier during his stay; Dr. John Willis Baer and other dignitaries.

After the luncheon Commander D'Olier and members of his party were taken for an automobile ride about Pasadena and then to Los Angeles, where tonight Mr. Coulton entertained at a dinner party in his honor at the Jonathan Club. He left tonight for San Francisco.

BUDGET BEING PARED.

The park department's appropriation for bridge paths in the Arroyo Seco were tentatively eliminated from the budget by the City Commission today. The city's share in the Columbia-street bridge over the Arroyo was cut from $25,000 to $25,000 and it was announced that there will be large cuts in street work appropriations.

More than 6400 persons bathed at the high school swimming pool from June 21 to August 1, according to a report issued at the school offices today. The high school plunge is open to the public during the summer vacation and has been much patronized during the warm weather.

TRAIN VICTIM RECOVERING.

Although a hole the size of an egg was torn in his brain, Clarence E. Dunham, the Pasadena plasterer struck by a Santa Fe train Friday night, is now recovering at Roosevelt Hospital here. For several days his recovery was doubtful but now he is steadily improving. Doctors say the injury will not affect his mind and that he will entirely recover. He was thrown from his auto and thrown through the fence of a near-by lumber yard when the train hit his car.

IN STORES AND HOMES.

NOVELTIES, IDEAS AND PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS.

By Olive Gray.

Up-to-Date:
Underthings for midday in the finest of handkerchief linen, finished in drawn-work—done by hand, of course—and in hand-embroidery of web-like tracery.

Open-meshed silk ratine for dresses and also for lining handsome fur garments. In the latter use, the ratine is placed above a silk of brilliant hue, such as emerald, King's blue or violet, lending interest to the color ensemble.

All sorts of "made" feathers in millinery, the mode set by Paris, of course. The birds that raised the feathers would never recognize their molt; and in fact the mind of man has been endeavored to devise queer ways of stringing and of treating the plumage and the mind of woman has been equally stressful in new ways of placing them on hats.

Silk stockings, in that one sale. Really silk, really excellent in weight, value and even in durability, these are genuine bargain hose. Handkerchiefs of actual linen which are a since-the-war restoration at reasonable prices.

Flowered velvets for late season frocks. The colorings and the designs are beautiful and the material practical for utility as well as for dressy occasions. Prices are reduced.

Cost Dresses for Fall.
The cost dress, always popular when permitted, will form one of the most important garments of midday's wardrobe for fall. Such materials as tulle, fine French serge, gabardine and corded effects will be among the leading materials. Trimmings will be embroidery, braiding either in ornate designs of narrow braids, or in parallel talorish lines, and there may be touches of color in lines of half-reverses of underleaves, glimpsed as the wearer moves. These cost dresses are to be the first "new clothes" for autumn, preceding as a rule the heavier suits and cloaks.

Aunt Susan's Chair.
Aunt Susan always has something new and attractive in her home. I call her a home-making genius. The other day when I ran in, it was a new kitchen chair which attracted my attention. An old chair, it was, in truth; an old chair repainted white. But in itself gave it a new lease on life, for the painting was well done; but, of course, Aunt Susan did more than that. She gave it a touch of art by means of a formal, bright-colored noosey, directly at the curved panel back. Hand-painted, you would have guessed; but no. Aunt Susan can't paint. She had cut the bouquet from wall-paper and pasted it on with glue, then covered it with shellac, when she finished the chair to give permanence to the white enamel. The chair was really pretty and far more inviting to look upon than it would have been, if plain, undecorated white.

For the Book-Lover.
One of the girls made a gift for the vacation departing teacher, by placing together two stiff card boards which she cut in shape like a Greek vase. This she painted in water color and filled it with cardboard flowers, which she also painted. Puffed out, these posies proved to be flat-stamped book-marks singularly attractive and useful, as well.

Friend Refrigerator.
"Choose your refrigerator as you would choose your friends." This is a good precept to adopt. For, better no refrigerator at all than the one which fails to guard your food, and, after you have secured the right one, its care should be of prime consideration. Cleanliness in the strictest sense of the term is the passport to food absolutely free from possibility of taint. Cleanliness, flushing and cleansing with baking soda is the safest, sanest way of keeping this important food conservator in good condition. Baking soda, unlike any of the usual cleansers used for sinks or elsewhere, is perfectly safe and it removes all slime and all odors.

Fruit of the Loom.
Was there a better name for a maulin than this? And it is a name which has been a household word for generations. Grandmothers always kept a "piece" of this maulin in the house to apply to many uses—always having it by the forty-ard bolt. Other times other manners, but grandmothers of today are glad to see prices on this stand-by reduced in a present week sale, so that frugality may counsel its purchase, if not in full "pieces" at least in some quantity.

Accommodating Sales.
"Isn't it amazing," said Evelyn, "how sales always manage to come along just when we need them?"
"I had not thought of it in that way," and I do not know yet whether it is the intelligence of sales, which leads them to arrive so opportunely, or whether we notice them when we need them. I replied: "For instance?"
"You know I have always said I could not wear one-piece frocks because of my I—well my overplumpness. But I read in Elaborate a dark voile and determined that I would make myself comfortable in a cotton frock, since real summer has arrived; and now—listen to this!—she proceeded to read the price list of cotton frocks offered in a store which I was about to purchase even though one might be uncertain as to the becomingness of such garments, since cool attire is called for, this warmest summer."

Another.
"Another thing I had determined upon," said Evelyn, "is a new, inexpensive, but dainty set of tableware. I have concluded that a change in this respect is quite as enhancing as changes of clothing. The more elaborate dinner course sets bring to mind the winter living and I therefore decided to get a pretty, light cottage set which we could break—if we felt like doing so without great damage to purse or feelings. And right in the morning paper are such sets advertised at a price less than I had hoped to pay. So I shall pack everything wintry away and take a new breath with the new, simple dinnerware. Isn't Evelyn original? And practical, as well.

LASKY ANNOUNCEMENTS

MAIGNE TO DIRECT SPECIALS; ELSIE FERGUSON SOON.

By Grace Kingsley.

As merely a foretaste, you might say, of what the Famous Players-Lasky Company expects to achieve within the next year or so, two interesting announcements were yesterday forthwith made from the center of the city, the Lasky studios. One announcement is to the effect that Elsie Ferguson is expected to be the first of the new stars to be shipped from the East, and altogether she is to be made as comfortable as possible. There are many stories current to the effect that Miss Ferguson is rather jilt-strung when working, and that she will permit nothing except the director and company on, and so where's the last nothing left for him to do now but go to work. Mr. Farnum and the remainder of the Dustin Farnum Productions Company will start work on August 16, at Brunton studio, on his next Robertson-Cole, feathery, an adaptation of Ridgwell Cullum's "The Trail of the Ax," scenarized by George Jinks. Ernest Ward, whose services are being secured for the production, will have time to catch his breath, will direct. This is the first time Mr. Ward has directed Farnum since "A Man in the Open."

Dusty Must Work.
They've hidden Dustin Farnum's fishing rod and dragged him home from the coast, and so there's just nothing left for him to do now but go to work. Mr. Farnum and the remainder of the Dustin Farnum Productions Company will start work on August 16, at Brunton studio, on his next Robertson-Cole, feathery, an adaptation of Ridgwell Cullum's "The Trail of the Ax," scenarized by George Jinks. Ernest Ward, whose services are being secured for the production, will have time to catch his breath, will direct. This is the first time Mr. Ward has directed Farnum since "A Man in the Open."

Once more the blonde and beautiful Winifred Kingston will appear in Mr. Farnum's leading woman, this being the first picture in which she has appeared with the star

NEW COMEDY STAR.

CHESTER CONKLIN SIGNS WITH SPECIAL PICTURES.

By Edwin Schallert.

Another new comedy star has just sparkled forth in the cinema skies. None other, as it happens, than Chester Conklin, who has played prominent roles in Mack Sennett and Fox Sunshine features. He signed yesterday with the Special Pictures Corporation to make a two-reel production each month for that organization.

Conklin signed with President Louis W. Conklin, the contract being executed in Portland, Or. The corporation has arranged with a Hollywood studio for the production of the comedy series, which Conklin, himself, is to direct.

Conklin is, perhaps, best known for his work in "Salome Versus Shenandoah" and "Uncle Tom Without the Cabin."

New Leading Man.
Jerome Patrick, a newcomer in pictures, will play the lead opposite Wanda Hawley in her new starring vehicle for Realart. Mr. Patrick has come here direct from New York, where he appeared in such stage successes as "Marie Oudille," "By Pigeon Post" and others. He recently completed a prominent role in "The Furnace," William D. Taylor's special.

"Old-fashioned Garden."
Those who saw Raymond Hitchcock's whimsical comedy success, "Hitchy Koo," which was one of the popular hits of the season, will have a chance to view again one of the favorite scenes, which will be staged next week by W. G. Stewart as a part of the California Theater program. This is the "Old-fashioned Garden Number," which will accompany the showing of John Fox, Jr.'s story, "A Cumberland Romance," in film version.

Ford Plays Principal.
Harrison Ford has been engaged to play the leading male role in Beha Daniels's next starring picture, which is scheduled to start Monday. Mr. Ford recently appeared with Wanda Hawley in "Miss Hobbs."

Morey Hip Star.
Harry Morey is the bright light on the program at the Hippodrome. Mr. Morey reveals an able portrayal in "The Gauntlet," an exciting story of the moonshine country, that vibrates with action. In addition to the film there are a diverting series of vaudeville attractions, including Halley and Nobel, in a comic sketch by Aaron Hoffman, entitled "Poking for Her," Jeff Healey and company in a humorous playlet, "A Business Proposal," the University Trio in harmony; Kennedy and Kravitz in dance specialties; Fox Benson and company in "The New Member," a novelty balancing act, and Frances and Phillips, aerial pantomimists.

New Hampton Story.
Hope Hampton is shortly to be busy on a new production at the Metro studios at Fort Lee. Miss Hampton left about a week ago for the East. It will be remembered, Her new picture is called "The Great Decision," and was written by H. Van Loan. Jack Gilbert, formerly assistant to Maurice Tourneur, is directing.

Carpenter to Stay.
Georges Carpentier's picture, "The Wonder Man," showing at Tally's Broadway, is to be held over a second week, owing to popular demand. Mr. Carpentier has proved a surprise to the majority of people, because he does not in the least resemble the boxing hero in any thing except his ability to use his fists, which he does very effectively in the fight scenes. It looks very much as if he would take rank with the best little matinee idols of the screen.

Gamut Club Meeting.
Plans for the organization of a dramatic section were uppermost in the discussions held at the monthly dinner of the Gamut Club last evening. And all the members of the club indicated their favorable attitude toward the new undertaking. Exact steps to carry out the project will probably be shortly determined. Wyndham Standing, well-known stage and screen actor, was the principal speaker on this topic.

In addition a very attractive program of musical numbers and speeches was given. Isabella Corl Piana, soprano, lately returned from abroad, sang a group of selections, accompanying herself on the piano. Edith Clark, pianist, presented several numbers, while Myra Belle Fowler's quartet, which has been appearing at the Victory Theater, was heard in ensemble numbers. The members of this quartet are Mabelle Burch, Ruth Beeman, Cathryn Giddings and Gladys Blackwell.

Others who took part in the entertainment were Miss Rowena Blincoe, dramatic reader, and Miss Eleanor Magnuson, who gave a group of recitations. Among the speakers were Prof. J. Shapiro of New York City College; Henry Myers, of New York; Otto Lederer, prominent actor who has lately returned from the Orient; Dr. Cecil E. Reynolds, Seward Simons and Signor Enrico Piana, commander in the Italian navy.

E. G. Judah, vice-president of the club, presided at the meeting in the absence of L. E. Rehmyer, who sent a telegram of greeting from New York.

MAY SPONSOR DRAMA.
The fourth new dramatic piece to be presented by Oliver Morosco in this city, will have its premiere tonight at the Mason. This is the comedy, "Wait Till We're Married," written by Hutchison Boyd and Rudolph Bunner. Among those who will take part in the production are Kathleen Clifford, Henry Duffey, William Courtleigh, Mrs. Tyrone Power, Vivian Rich, William Austin, Ruby Lafayette, Marie Van Tassel, Henry Garrity, William Rogers, Florence Binley and Max Paley.

HELD TO ANSWER.
Emily Smock, accused of manslaughter in the death on June 27 of Isora Thorne, an aged woman, was held to answer yesterday by Justice Hinshaw, Dep. Dist. Atty. Fitts adduced testimony showing that the defendant, an inexperienced driver, ran down the other woman with her automobile, while both of them were on their way to church.

been seriously damaged in the unreported battles and some of the boats at San Pedro have been put out of commission.
The Yamato, missing from her home port of Long Beach for over three weeks, has been the object of a search by the West Coast Packing Company of Long Beach, the owners, but no thought of violence was entertained by the officials until the developments yesterday.
HOSTILITIES OVER HALIBUT.
Hostilities on the halibut banks have spread between the fishermen until now practically every boat plying to the grounds out of San Diego clashes with the boats operating from Long Beach and San Pedro can-neries. The rivalry has become so great that fishermen say that boats frequently have been locked together while the crews carried on the fight. In one battle more than 150 shots were exchanged. The fishermen are said to have fired from behind sheet iron and no one was injured, although the cabins were riddled.
Austrian manned purse seine boats from Puget Sound, operating on the halibut banks between San Jose Point and Oceanside and whom Federal officials say have no respect for the law, have aggravated the situation this season. These Austrians, it is said, have repeatedly made night attacks on rival fishermen's trammel nets and have destroyed thousands of dollars' worth of gear in a single raid.
The Italian and Japanese fishermen have retaliated by clashing with the Austrian purse seiners at every opportunity.
AUSTRIAN MISSING.
The Prone Rose, said to be an Austrian fishing smack operating out of San Diego, has been missing for three weeks. This information was obtained by Detective J. V.
Doran, who has been investigating along the water front in the southern city for the last two days. It is believed the boat was destroyed
during one of the battles off Del Mar.
Wreckage was picked up at Roseville on July 24, it has been reported to the police, Charles Tyreman having found a keel of a boat.
Seven feet of bilge was found off
Point Loma on July 26 by George Glicker, and a big fishing net and another boat's keel were cast ashore about July 15 at Point Loma.
The San Diego police are combing their water front to find where the Yamato got fuel on July 12, to check up on the number of men aboard and get other information.
Fear that the feud may spread from sea to land and that the fisherman along the water front may join in the warfare has been expressed and extra guards are being placed at San Diego where the fishing smacks
whom Federal officials say have no

This Woman's Success
Might Easily be Yours
The Inspiring Story of a Montana Housewife
Who Made Good as a Photoplay Writer.

CHANCE reading of a twelve-word sentence in a magazine was the turning point which turned Fortune's favor into the life of Elizabeth Thatcher, of Montana.
"Anyone with imagination and good story ideas can learn to write photoplays." That declaration so aroused her interest that she determined to put it to the test. Straightway she mailed the coupon at the bottom of the page and in a few days received two interesting books.
These books not only revealed the secret of successful photoplay writing, but set forth a test by which she was able to form a definite opinion as to her creative ability. And to her great surprise it began to dawn on her that she actually possessed the basic qualifications of a photo-playwright.
Brilliant Success Within
Few Weeks
SHE at once enrolled in the Palmer Course of Photoplay writing. And within a few weeks her first story, "Reforming Betty," was accepted for production by the Thomas H. Ince Studios.
To the little woman from Montana it was a triumph as great as it was unexpected. The really striking feature of her experience—the feature that is of greatest significance to you —is revealed in the following words from one of her letters:
"I cannot write of the long, lean years of attempting to write, because I had never tried to write for publication or the screen, until I enrolled for the Palmer Course. In fact, I had no desire to write until I read your advertisement. I feel that such success as I have had is directly due to the Palmer Course and to your constructive help."

How About You?
"Never tried to write"—"no desire to write"—and yet potentially an excellent photoplay writer! May not that be exactly your situation?
The possibility is well worth finding out. For you would have just as quick a sale for your first acceptable photoplay as did Elizabeth Thatcher. In fact, if a thousand available new stories were offered to producers today, they would be eagerly bought at prices ranging from $100 to $1,000. New stories—more stories—better stories—is the incessant cry of every producer.
The Surest Way to Success—
The Palmer Plan
Born of this overwhelming demand for trained photoplay writers,
the Palmer Photoplay Corporation has become recognized as the leading educational institution for instruction in the art of photoplay writing. It has won this recognition by three important advantages:
1. Its intimate contact with the majority of producers.
2. The simple, scientific, yet thoroughly practical methods of instruction it employs.
3. Its easy availability.
The closest contact with the motion picture industry is made possible by the location of the Palmer Photoplay Corporation at Los Angeles—the heart of the film industry. Its Advisory Council consists of the following noted motion picture authorities:
Cecil B. de Mille, director general of Famous Players-Lasky Corporation; Thomas H. Ince, head of the Associated Producers; Lois Weber, foremost woman director, and Rob Wagner, widely known writer and film expert.
Frederick Palmer, the man who wrote 52 produced scenarios in nine months, is Director of Education.
And every member of the faculty has been a practical photoplay-wright. Contributing an exceedingly practical element to the course are lectures by some of the brightest minds of the photoplay profession—
Frank Lloyd and Clarence Badger,
Goldwyn directors; Jeanie Mac-Pherson, noted scenario writer; Al
E. Christie, president Christie Film Company; Col. Jasper Ewing Brady of Metro's scenario staff; George Beban, distinguished actor, writer and producer; Hugh McClung, expert cinematographer; Eric How-

CARRY AIRMEN SIDE BY SIDE

Locklear, Elliott Bodies to be Sent Away Today.

Parting Near Men Death Couldn't Divide.

Flyers and Film Artists to Pay Final Tribute.

The bodies of Lieut. Ormer Locklear and Lieut. Milton Elliott will be carried side by side to the Southern Pacific Station this morning and the men who, even in death were united, will be parted for the first time since they worked together in their first daring stunt with an airplane. Lieut. Locklear's body will be sent to his home in Texas for burial, and that of his friend will be sent to the latter's old home at Gadsden, Ala.

Scores of old comrades and friends, many of whom witnessed the airmen's plunge to death at De Mille Field Monday night, and others who knew the aviators before they performed before the camera, will form the procession which will escort the bodies to the train. Overhead fifteen planes from the Mercury and Chaplin Aviation companies will follow the procession in battle formation, dropping thousands of flowers as tribute.

The procession will form at the Smith and Bagley undertaking parlors at 5440 Hollywood Boulevard shortly before 9 a.m. Proceeding south on Western avenue to Wilshire, it will turn east to Westlake Park, south to Seventh street, east on Seventh street to Central avenue, and south on Central to the Southern Pacific Station. At Seventh and Hope streets a detail from the American Legion Post No. 3 and Victory Post No. 54 will join the ranks.

Palbearers have been chosen from those men who were closely associated with the aviators in their last work at the Fox studios. Including Tom Mix, who will drive the palbearers for Lieut. Locklear, are Sol M. Wurtzel, superintendent of the Fox studios; James P. Hogan, director of the picture, "The Skywayman" in which Locklear was starring at the time of his death; W. L. O'Connell, cameraman; Lieut. David E. Thompson, manager of the Mercury Aviation Field, and an old friend of the airmen, and H. K. Shellaby, publicity man for the Locklear Company.

Those chosen as palbearers for Milton Elliott are: Scott M. Elliot, director at the Fox studios, who will drive; Tom Seiler, assistant general superintendent of the Fox studios; W. K. Howard, assistant director of "The Skywayman"; S. W. Patton, clerk for the Locklear Company; William Russell, film actor, and Thomas Warfield, technical director of the Locklear Company.

As the procession passes by the studios all companies will cease work in tribute to the dead airmen. The train bearing the bodies of the men will leave the Southern Pacific Station at 11 a.m. No funeral services will be held here, it was announced.

Mrs. Ruby Locklear, who will receive the body of her husband at her home in Texas, was reported yesterday afternoon to be prostrated. The bodies of both aviators will be

TWO ROLES IN COURT.

Same Man Twice Complaining Witnesses, Then Defendant, on Same Day.

E. S. Bradley was defendant and complaining witness yesterday in two cases in Justice Summerfield's court, where Justice Cooney is sitting.

Bradley obtained a complaint against W. A. Murray and Madeline Williams, charging them with the theft of $182.14 from him. These two were arrested and arraigned. They were committed to the County Jail to await hearing on Monday.

Bradley was then arraigned, with Harry Owens as co-defendant on a charge of grand larceny and embezzlement of $150 from R. R. Morgan of 430 West Forty-first street. Hearing was set in this case for Saturday.

The transaction, which was said to have been in deal connected with the Allied Productions Company, occurred on May 11. Mr. Morgan charged Bradley with misappropriating $500 meant for the Allied Productions Company.

"GAS" BARGAINS OFF.

Charged with stealing gasoline from the Wilshire Oil Company, Julian J. Seegart of 1106 East Eighteenth street was arrested yesterday by private detectives employed by the oil company. According to what the police have been able to learn, Seegart who was an oil tank driver, was stealing the gasoline from the Wilshire company and then selling it at reduced prices to the gasoline station men. He is alleged to have confessed.

SEWER BONDS SOLD AT LOSS.

So Declare Brokers and City Treasurer Powell.

Council Committee's Action Brings Criticism.

Only One Bid Received and it is Accepted.

Bankers and bond and investment houses yesterday bombarded Mayor Snyder, City Treasurer Powell and members of the Council with complaints regarding the manner in which bids were invited for the sale of $125,000 of bonds for the construction of a new outfall sewer in the Wilmington district of the harbor.

C. E. Woodside of the bond department of the Citizens' National Bank called Mayor Snyder on the telephone and said: "That bond sale was a steal. Investigate it." The Mayor said: "If every bond house did not have an opportunity to bid on these bonds, then I say it was bad business. I shall investigate."

The Council last week instructed the Finance Committee to ask for bids for the bonds, which are to mature in ten years. Committee Clerk Hopper was instructed by the Finance Committee to ask for bids to be received yesterday morning.

Mr. Hopper stated that he went to the office of City Treasurer Powell and asked for a list of bond houses to which notices should be sent. Mr. Powell was temporarily absent from the office, Mr. Hopper says, and Deputy Treasurer McPherrin handed to the clerk a list of banks and bond houses. The records of the City Clerk's office show that notices asking for bids were sent to R. H. Moulton & Co., the National City Company, Torrance, Marshall & Company, Perrin, Drake & Riley, the Guaranty Trust and Savings Bank, Security Trust and Savings Bank, Citizens' National Bank, Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank and Stephens & Co.

The Finance Committee yesterday received one bid when the appointed hour arrived and the bid was opened. It was from Torrance, Marshall & Company, offering to buy the bonds at a premium of $611.

The bid was accepted by the Council. When the news reached the financial district the telephones began to ring with complaints, but the bid had been accepted and the incident closed, so far as the Council was concerned. City Treasurer Powell said yesterday afternoon:

"The city lost more than $175,000 by the manner in which the Finance Committee and the Council went ahead and handled the sale of the $125,000 of harbor bonds, and it has probably lost a great deal of money in this sewer bond transaction. If my advice had been asked by the Council I would have recommended that a formal advertisement for bids be placed in the Daily Journal, which is the usual procedure. Then all of the banks and bond houses would have known of the bids being asked for, and the city would undoubtedly have received many bids at a much larger premium than was offered."

WINS BALM AND PAY, TOO.

John F. Edgeworth, the elderly and wealthy suitor of Mary Ada Small, did not contest her $150,000 bequest of promise suit which was tried by Judge Jackson yesterday.

The court awarded her $2000 damages and allowed her claim of $14,000 as commission for obtaining a purchaser for 180 acres of oil land in Texas he sold for $140,000.

The plaintiff stated Mr. Edgeworth made love to her and asked her to marry him. This was in Eastgrove, Ill., in March, 1918. He postponed the date of the wedding, she said, giving as a reason the fact that his sons, Frank and Fred Edgeworth, were not reconciled to him taking a wife.

He renewed his promise to marry, but represented he owned 41,000 acres in Texas he was desirous of selling first so that they could be happier. Mr. Edgeworth went to Texas, but instead of returning to Chicago, came on to Los Angeles. The plaintiff says he renewed his promise to marry her.

An agreement was on file by which Mr. Edgeworth promised to give her 10 per cent for negotiating the sale of the 160 acres.

Assembly District one year prior to the next election. The order was obtained by Attorney Paul Schenck and is returnable before Judge Sherk this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Word was received here yesterday that the State Supreme Court has affirmed the judgment of $2900 secured against Los Angeles county in the local Superior Court by Della B. Elliott on account of damages done her by waters that broke the San Fernando Protection District, allowed to escape through a taxpayer, who filed the suit, that break in the conduits. The bill for Mr. Loucks is ineligible, not having the damage was presented to the Board of Supervisors and rejected.

Assembly District Taxpayer Wants Lock's Name Off Ballot.

Presiding Judge Jackson yesterday issued an order to show cause, directed to David B. Lyons, Registrar of Voters, why the name of Edwin O. Loucks, candidate for the Seventy-first District, should not be left off the official ballot for the next election.

It is asserted by George Wright, a resident of the Seventy-first

GOOD WORK BY DRUG CLINIC

Acting Health Commissioner Elmer R. Pascoe yesterday submitted a report to the Council, in response to a resolution introduced by Councilman Farmer, showing that up to August 1 the narcotic clinic in the Temple Block had treated 548 registered cases, of which number 229 were active cases and 249 have been closed. Eighteen cases have been sent to the psychopathic ward at the County Hospital. Several have taken treatment in private sanatoriums at their own expense, the report shows, and the names of six patients have been recommended by the clinic physicians to take advantage of the city's appropriation for hospital treatment, while twenty-four others have requested the treatment.

"The clinic," Dr. Pascoe says, "reduces the drug and prepares the patient for hospital treatment when available."

Voluntary reduction in dosage has been made by seventy-one patients, the report states, and 263 patients have taken reduced dosage under the direction of the clinic physicians. The average dosage per patient is eight and one-third grains of morphine, while there is one case where the patient took 100 grains.

Dr. Pascoe states that as a result of the work of the clinic, the dosage patients are able to stand where they were unable to do so before.

DAILY TRADE TALK

Former Los Angeles Banker Makes Hit in Paris; Reserve Bank Report.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

Willis H. Booth, for many years an active factor in financial and banking circles in Southern California and still an officer and director of the Security Trust and Savings Bank; a vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, and chairman of the finance committee of the American Bankers' Association, has been in attendance at the international congress of the chambers of commerce in Paris as a delegate from the American association.

Mr. Booth, who has recently been elected a director of the International Chamber of Commerce, made a profound impression upon the gathering by an address on America's financial situation, which he delivered at Sarbonne.

If Mr. Booth's speech could be printed in full in every French newspaper, said one of the French delegates afterward, according to the New York Times, "it would do more to remove misunderstandings and promote good feeling between France and America than a hundred sentimental discourses about hands across the sea. It was a perfectly clear and satisfactory explanation of the situation of the United States."

"It is hoped," said the speaker, "that to interest the public in foreign operations through local corporations. But there will be a continued demand for every dollar of credit for some years, and this competition for credit will keep rates high."

"Next to the restoration of political peace the restoration of the normal flow of credits is the first problem. Upon it depends the highly important matter of exchange. Therefore, business men should do their utmost in that direction. The task is entirely necessary, but it should be carried out in accordance with sound business laws and with due regard to domestic needs."

"The business men of America hope to play a real part, and I hope this will be helpful to our friends, safe and remunerative to us and a very definite factor in the world's progress."

RESERVE BANK STATEMENT

At the close of business, July 30, the comparative statement of condition made yesterday by the Federal Reserve Bank for this district shows a decrease in total gold reserves of $3,000,000, over the preceding week, but an increase of nearly $20,000,000 as compared with the corresponding week a year ago.

Gross deposits from member banks run in about the same proportion, $148,981,000, as compared with $153,050,000 for the preceding week and $129,841,000 for the corresponding week a year ago. Total resources are $417,981,000 against $426,122,000 for the preceding week and $224,236,000 last year. Discount rates remain unchanged.

NEW FINANCING

Blair & Co. and the Equitable Trust Company of New York are the underwriters of a new $12,500,000 issue of United Tank Car Company equipment trust 7 per cent gold notes which will be offered locally today.

This company, formerly a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, is the largest individual owner of tank cars in the United States. The cars under contract for delivery and to be built with the proceeds of the present issue, together with those already owned by the company, gives the United Tank Car Company ownership of about 20,000 tank cars.

As security for the issue title to 8000 new tank cars already built, or to be built during this year, will be vested in the trustee, the Equitable Trust Company of New York. These cars have a valuation of about $18,000,000. This issue will constitute the sole funded indebtedness of the company, which has net assets of over $46,000,000.

Earnings of the company for 1919 were equal to 6.75 times the annual interest charges on this issue. The notes will be retired by the establishment of a sinking fund of $1,250,000 per year, payable in semiannual installments.

Local participants in the issue are Blyth, Witter & Co., E. H. Rollins & Sons, Bond & Goodwin, Cyrus Peirce & Co., Blankenhorn-Hunter, Dulin Company, Security Trust and Savings Bank, Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank, Guaranty Trust and Savings Bank, Home and Hibernian Bank, R. Bond Market

BY C. F. SEIDEL.
Manager, Bond Department, Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank.

"At present the prices of bonds and the best preferred stocks are so low that it is doubtful whether the investor should wait for a possible further drop. The safer course is to take advantage of the present bond bargains as fast as funds for the purpose are available. It is highly improbable that the life of the average business man will include another bargain year as a par with 1920."

This is a statement contained in a recent issue of the Magazine of Wall Street. No better summary up of the investment opportunities offered the public at the present time could possibly be made. With a view to presenting a list of attractive bond offerings, the Bond Department of The Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank herewith gives a partial list of securities it has available. From this presentation no difficulty will be encountered in making a wise selection. It is as follows:

Utah Idaho Sugar Company's First Mortgage Serial 7 per cent Gold Bonds—Coupon Bonds in denominations of $1000 and $500. This company is one of the largest producers of beet sugar in the United States, its present production representing about 10 per cent of the total beet sugar production of the country. The business has been in successful operation since 1891. At prices, according to maturity, yielding approximately 7 1/2 per cent.

Miller & Lux, Inc. First Mortgage 7 per cent ten-year Gold Bonds—Coupon Bonds of $500 and $1000 denomination. Tax exempt in California. These bonds are secured by approximately 1,000,000 acres of land in California, Utah, Nevada, Idaho and Oregon, which with improvements is conservatively estimated at a present value of $50,000,000. At 100 and interest, yielding 7 1/2 per cent.

Southern California Edison Company's General and Refunding Mortgage 25-year 6 per cent Gold Bonds—Series of 1919—Coupon Bonds of $1000, $500 and $100 denominations. Registered bonds in denomination of $1000 or multiples thereof. Tax exempt in California. Company operates in ten counties in Southern California and the San Joaquin Valley, with an area of more than 45,000 square miles and a population of over 3,000,000, serving either directly or at wholesale, more than 150 cities and towns. At 85 1/2 and interest, yielding 7 1/2 per cent.

Ohio Cities Gas Company's 7 per cent Convertible Serial Gold Notes—In coupon form of $1000. The company ranks among the six largest oil properties in the United States, its operations including every phase of the oil industry. It owns and leases over $50,000 acres in the oil fields of Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Illinois, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Louisiana. It owns more than 3000 oil wells with a settled production furnishing an income of $38,000 per day, and six refineries with a daily capacity of more than 25,000 barrels. At prices, according to maturity, yielding approximately 8 per cent.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's 5-year 7 per cent Convertible Gold Notes—Coupon Notes of $1000 and $500. The company owns and operates the properties of the Bell Telephone System throughout the States of Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas, which for many years it has owned or controlled through subsidiary companies. The company also owns the entire capital stock of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company of Illinois, which owns and operates the Bell Telephone System in East St. Louis, Illinois, and over 90 per cent of the capital stock of the Dallas Telephone Company, operating in Dallas, Texas. In addition, seven smaller telephone companies which operate in the above territories are controlled and the company connects with other systems which it does not own. Bonds at 97 1/2 and interest, to yield over 7 1/2 per cent.

Wickwire-Spencer Steel Corporation's (of Massachusetts) 7 per cent First Mortgage Sinking Fund Gold Bonds—$500 and $1000 coupon bonds. The company has more than nine plants located in Worcester, Clinton, Palmer and Spencer, Massachusetts, and Buffalo, New York. The business is a large and important industry, with complete and modern plants in which are carried forward all the successive steps, from the production of iron ore, its conversion into pig iron and steel ingots, to the manufacture of wire rods and of all forms of wire products. Bonds at 100 and interest.

Pan-American Petroleum & Transport Company's First Lien 10-year Marine Equipment 7 per cent Convertible Gold Bonds—Coupon Bonds in denominations of $1000 and $500, secured by a first mortgage on a fleet of ten steel tank steamships. The company states that its oil deliveries at the present time are at the annual rate of approximately 30,000,000 barrels, and that with its controlled and affiliated companies, if no unforeseen delays occur, should have facilities for handling 45,000,000 barrels per year by 1921. This is about 2 1/2 times the volume of oil handled in 1919, the average of which is given as 18,300,000 barrels. Price of bonds 94 1/2, and interest, yielding 7.80 per cent.

You are invited to come in and talk over these and other investment offerings with the writer at the Bond Department of the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Technical conditions supplied the primary motive for the improvement of speculative sentiment in the stock market today. Indications of substantial buying of railroad stocks and bonds and plentiful supplies of call money at 6 per cent, offset temporarily depressing influences.

Periods of weakness were interspersed with the advance, further demoralizing in sterling, which broke an additional 4 cents, and the pessimistic reports from Poland furnishing an incentive to early selling.

Belief that the market had been sold temporarily to a standstill gained many supporters when it was proved that the rise was not bringing out the customary supply of stocks.

Reports of the intention of the roads to spend $700,000,000 for necessary improvements, caused good demand for the steel and equipment issues. Some of the industrial shares broke badly because of special considerations. American cotton oil fell 7 points on the passing of the dividend. The leather reflected trade conditions and reports that the embargo on the exportation of hides and leather from Australia had been removed. Sterling exchange rallied 5 cents from the lowest, but the general movement at the end was uncertain because of scattered realigning.

Railroad bonds made strong progress upward, but there was little alteration in prices of foreign and domestic government issues. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call. Sales (par value) were $11,775,000.

WANT TO CLOSE "WILDEST CAFE."

Laurel Canyon Home Owners
in Arms Against Log Cabin.

Declare Friends Refuse to be Their Guests Any More.

Ask Injunction to Shut Road
House and Stop Noise.

That his $200,000 mountain home in Laurel Canyon has depreciated in value 50 per cent, and that his friends will no longer visit his home as his guests because a "notorious resort" is being operated on adjoining property, is one of the statements made in a deposition filed by R. M. Walker in a complaint against the Log Cabin, a road house and dance hall. Several other Laurel Canyon property owners subscribe to the complaint.

They pray for an injunction against Ervin Dingle and George Collins, to restrain them from operating a dance hall or road house in the canyon and hearing has been set for next Monday before Judge Jackson. W. I. Gilbert and L. L. Lerner, Lewisohn and Barnhill are the attorneys who represent the plaintiffs.

Other property owners who complain about the conduct of persons who frequent the Log Cabin are Mr. and Mrs. J. Herman Asgard, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Tully, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bloom and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Sheffer.

Mrs. Asgard deposes that when she was recently visiting at Lake Tahoe she was mortified by the ridicule which greeted her statement that her home was in Laurel Canyon. Acquaintances told her, she says, that Laurel Canyon is "the place where there's the wildest cafe in the State of California," and that therefore she cannot make her home there until the Log Cabin is closed. Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Tully deposes that formerly they and their daughter could walk to their neighbors' homes without fear of being molested, but that since the Log Cabin has been in operation they do not dare permit their daughter to leave the house without an escort.

All of the complaints make mention of "loud and discordant jazz music" which continues until 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning, or honking automobiles which disturb their sleep, of "loud singing and shouting," of the drinking of intoxicating liquors by patrons of the Log Cabin, and of improper conduct of many of those patrons. Empty beer, gin, wine and whisky bottles are found on the road and on their own properties every morning, say the complaining property owners—and even some that are only partly empty.

It is also charged that the only road up the canyon, which is narrow and full of curves, is made dangerous because drunken persons drive up and down at high speed, and that the canyon dwellers are constantly menaced with forest fires which may be started by cigarettes thrown into the dry underbrush by intoxicated revelers.

Other actions are pending against the Log Cabin.

SCHOOL CENSUS SHOWS GROWTH.

Thirteen Thousand Increase in County Since Last Year's Report.

An increase of 13,197 in the daily average attendance at the schools of the county is shown by comparison of the school census figures for 1919 and 1920, filed yesterday with the Board of Supervisors by Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools.

The detailed figures for each year are as follows:
Average daily attendance, year ending June 30, 1920: Kindergarten, 7298; elementary, 55,367; high school, 23,366.

Average daily attendance, year ending June 30, 1919: Kindergarten, 6891; elementary, 55,479; high school, 20,364.

The Log Cabin, the dance license of which was recently revoked by the Supervisors after a hearing at which the charges and complaints of property owners were investigated.

Superintendent Woodley, at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors yesterday, introduced an ordinance prescribing a residence district in Laurel Canyon. The ordinance is intended to prevent the construction or maintenance of any business house, but is especially directed toward the Log Cabin. The ordinance was prepared, introduced and passed at the request of the people who reside in the vicinity.

MAN'S FORMER JUDGE SAYS HE "CAME BACK."

ONCE CONVICTED FOR ASSAULT
ON WIFE WITH KNIFE, NOW HAS GOOD CHARACTER.

Judge Clarke presided at the trial of Michael P. Duggan, who was convicted several years ago on a charge of assaulting his wife, Mary E. Duggan, with a knife. Yesterday Mr. Clarke appeared in Judge Jackson's court as Mr. Duggan's attorney on an order to show cause why the order of the court which granted Mrs. Duggan a divorce and awarded her the custody of her son, Lawrence Duggan, should not be modified. Mrs. Duggan was also in court.

"Mr. Duggan has made good," said Mr. Clarke. "Two members of the Board of Supervisors of Ventura county have testified for him." Judge Jackson ordered Mr. Duggan to pay $25 a month for the support of his son who lives in San Francisco with his mother, and permitted him to visit the boy twice a year. The visits are to be under the supervision of Attorney Ryan of San Francisco.

Bailiff J. L. Harrod of Judge Jackson's court brought the boy to Los Angeles, getting him out of San Francisco before habeas corpus proceedings were instituted.

Los Angeles' Greatest Sale of Player Pianos Begins Tomorrow at Hamburger's

A Spectacular Purchase by Hamburger's—A Whole Carload of the Famous "Ennis" Player Pianos Priced Way Below What You Expected to Pay

It is the offer of years—this famous "Ennis" player piano with a bench and 25.00 worth of player rolls may be bought for a sum much less than the piano alone would cost under ordinary circumstances. It is another brilliant star in the crown of sale triumphs which Hamburger's has brought to the people of Los Angeles and Southern California. The fact that our guarantee is back of every piano sold in this event, proves our absolute confidence in the instrument—and the price speaks for itself.

The Ennis Player Piano—A Player Bench and Player Rolls to the Value of 25.00—all for 485.00

Free deliveries will be made during this sale, to any place within the Los Angeles city limits. This arrangement is an additional attraction of the sale—simply choose the piano and rolls that you wish and all will be delivered at once with no extra cost.

The pianos in this sale are manufactured by one of the best manufacturers in the United States—the tone quality, mechanism and finish far exceed what this unusually low price would lead you to expect. The mahogany case, rich in its plainness, rivals many of the more expensive pianos.

Each has the adjustable tracker board and will play any 88-note player roll. Those who know the joys that come with the ownership of a player piano will fully appreciate the opportunity which is extended them by Hamburger's in this sale. The bench, which matches the piano exactly, would cost many dollars if bought separately—yet it is included with player piano and rolls in the August Sale for 485.00.

You May Pay Hamburger's Easy Payment Way

OUR Easy Payment Plan makes it a very simple matter to enjoy this player piano at once. The arrangement requires only a comparatively small initial payment—the rest in monthly installments.

This plan has proved to be most expedient by hundreds of patrons who have had the use and enjoyment of instruments from the Music Salons without being burdened with large payments.

Come into the Music Salons and hear these instruments—in no time you will be choosing your 25.00 worth of player rolls and enjoying them in your own home.

NOTICE TO PARENTS

San Diego Army and Navy Academy

The Academy has enjoyed for years the highest recognition from the Colleges and from the War Department; it is the University of California's "Division A," the highest academic rating; the War Department rates it as Class "M," a real military school; its graduates, on appointment, are exempted from the regular military examination at West Point.

The deep heart interest in a boy, the spirit of good fellowship, the great amount of individual care and attention given the student, the Academy's genuinely democratic atmosphere and absolute freedom from snobbishness—these are some of the features that are so strongly appealing to red-blooded young Americans and to discriminating parents.
